1960s and later : The decades following the decline of the studio system in the 1960s saw changes in the production and style of film. Various New Wave movements including the French New Wave, Indian New Wave, Japanese New Wave, and New Hollywood and the rise of film-school-educated independent filmmakers contributed to the changes the medium experienced in the latter half of the 20th century. Digital technology has been the driving force for change throughout the 1990s and into the 2000s. Digital 3D projection largely replaced earlier problem-prone 3D film systems and has become popular in the early 2010s.citation needed

Percentage box office losses outside of mainland China for January to March 3, 2020, are 70–75% in Italy, 60% in South Korea, 35% in Hong Kong, the Philippines, and Singapore, and 30% in Taiwan.18 The Los Angeles box office, a key movie market and local economic backbone, was projected to fall by 20% in April 2020 compared to its 2019 figures, based on the state of emergency declared in the county at the start of March 2020.18 Despite the state of emergency, as single screens within movie theatres do not hold more than 1,000 people, they were granted an exemption from the ban on mass public gatherings in California. A National Association of Theatre Owners representative for California and Nevada announced that theatres would stay open historically, movie theatres have remained open during other similar emergencies.19 However, a survey of Americans over the opening March weekend showed support for closing movie theaters.9 On March 15, Deadline reported that over 100 movie theaters in the US had closed, some due to local rulings and others because of an inability to keep them open with no demand3 on March 17, with national restrictions to social gatherings, cinemas across the United States closed.12 However, drive-in theaters, where customers stay in their own cars, were not closed, and quickly grew in popularity again.20

Exhibitors : The stock of exhibitors, companies that own and finance showing films in cinemas and theaters, continued falling even as the global stock market rebounded. Mid-week on March 4, 2020, Cinemark fell by 0.53% and AMC by 3.5%.179 That day, No Time to Die had its release postponed by March 6, AMCs shares had fallen by 30% over two weeks. Between March 4 and 6, Cineworlds shares fell 20%,7 and fell another 24% on March 12.180 The falls result from a combination of AMC closing selected cinemas in Italy179 and the lack of confidence in the market created by No Time to Die moving its release date other new releases on its original opening weekend will not be as much of a draw for moviegoers and could result in financial losses for the chains showing them.18 The in-theater advertising company National CineMedia also reported stock falling, by 1.25% on March 4.179
